Boy Killed In Tumble From Car

Charles Arthur Brooke, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brooke, 424 Third avenue west, died Tuesday morning of injuries received when he fell from the car being driven by his father and was run over by a back wheel of the auto.

The accident occurred about one mile west of Hazelton on the highway between Hazelton and Eden at approximately 10:30 a.m. According to his father, the youngster was leaning against the car door, which flew open suddenly. Brooke reached for the boy too late to stop him from falling under the wheel of the car.

The youngster died while en route to the hospital. Only Brooke was with the boy at the time of the accident.

The child was born Dec. 23, 1945, in Twin Falls. In addition to his parents, he is survived by his 5-year-old sister, Deanna Brooke; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Brooke, North Judson, Ind., and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Noggle, Hobart, Ind.

The body rests at the Reynolds funeral home pending arrangements for the funeral.

Magic Valley has had three traffic fatalities this year. The last highway death occurred March 6 as result of an accident in Shoshone county.

Airport Sign Erected at Main and Shoshone

The neon-lighted airport directional sign is hoisted into place Tuesday at the corner of Main avenue and Shoshone street. Adjusting the guy wires on the sign as it is swung into place is Arthur Pape. Painted green with an orange arrow, the sign, according to William Garnett, chairman of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce sign committee which purchased the sign, will be lighted within the next few days. 4.2 Per Cent Cut for Farm Funds Sought

WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—A 4.2 per cent cut in the agriculture department's $635,232,480 budget for next year was urged today by the house appropriations committee.

But besides approving $543,421,453 in new cash for the department, the committee recommended $65,000,000 for the school lunch program and $400,000,000 in loan authority for the rural electrification administration.

Included Conservation Pay

The cash outlay includes $150,000,000 to pay farmers for soil conservation practices they carry under the AAA program. The bill also promises a $225,000,000 appropriation for this purpose next year to cover the 1948 program.

The $543,421,453 total okayed by the committee is $80,105,198 below the amount the department was given for the present year.

While the cash approved is actually $91,921,027 less than President Truman's proposed budget for the department, $65,000,000 of the cut is a paper transaction.

$65,000,000 Asked

The President had asked for $65,000,000 cash for the school lunch program. The committee instead ordered transfer of that amount from funds the department receives from

Hospital Sets Early Opening Of Department

Adequate housing in Twin Falls for a radiologist and his family is the only requirement yet to be filled before the new radiology department of the Twin Falls county hospital can start functioning, according to Supt. Evert E. Moody.

At a special meeting of the hospital board X-ray committee Monday, Dr. John H. Raymond, Chicago, Ill., accepted appointment as radiologist for the Twin Falls county hospital. When suitable housing is available, Dr. Raymond will come here to operate the department, Moody said.

"Fortunate"

He declared hospital administration officials feel they are fortunate in obtaining the services of a well qualified radiologist. In addition to being a diplomat of the American Board of Radiology, Dr. Raymond spent several years in private practice in Minnesota prior to qualifying himself as a certified radiologist.

Moody emphasized that much thought and time had been used in developing the new department of the hospital. He said the like department would augment the department of pathology established in August, 1947.

Complete Service

Superintendent Moody said the county hospital will now be able to offer a complete diagnostic service which is expected to be of great value and benefit to the entire Magic Valley.

Purpose of the department will be to administer deep therapy radiation.

All Quiet

Nothing startling in the way of weather is expected for Magic Valley in the next five days, according to the latest forecast received here Tuesday via the Associated Press.

Light precipitation is predicted along with "normal" temperatures. Here is the complete forecast:

"Temperatures near normal with little variation. Precipitation light, occurring at beginning and again at end of period."

Meat Packer, Coal Strikes Idle Over 380,000 Persons

By The Associated Press

Many of the nation's meat packing plants and soft coal mines were made idle today by walkouts in these two major industries. More than 380,000 workers were on the sidelines.

The CIO United Packinghouse Workers union called out its 100,000 members from meat packing plants across the nation at 12:01 a.m. The union rejected a presidential request that it delay the strike.

In the coal industry, 280,000 miners, or 70 per cent of the nation's soft coal miners, left their jobs in a walkout which threatened to engulf most of the industry.

Union officials said all of Utah's 4,227 union miners were out.

Supply Cut Expected

The packinghouse strike, which affects about 140 plants, is expected to cut the nation's meat supply in half.

It was ordered last night by the union's executive committee despite a telegram from President Truman asking an 80-day delay while a special board of inquiry investigated the dispute.

The strike is in support of demands for a wage increase of 29 cents an hour. The packers have offered a nine-cent-an-hour raise.

Picket lines were formed at the Cudahy Packing company's plant at North Salt Lake, Russell Fury of Los Angeles, international representative of the CIO United Packinghouse Workers, said.

130 Out in Salt Lake

The action by members of local No. 159 was in accordance with the national strike by the union, he said. The local has some 130 members.

Fury said five engineers and one stockhandler would remain on duty for maintenance work.

Other Utah packing plants are

Demurrer Is Filed in Club Liquor Case

A demurrer, charging the complaint must Irving Steinberg, owner of the Klover Klub, does not state sufficient facts to constitute a public offence," was filed by Attorney William L. Dunn in Twin Falls justice court Tuesday.

Dunn, Steinberg's lawyer, points out in the action that under the 1947 Idaho liquor law no provisions apply to municipalities which do not allow the sale of liquor.

Arrested Feb. 5

Steinberg was arrested Feb. 5 by undercover agents of the state liquor control commission. He is charged with maintaining in the Klover Klub a room where "whiskey was received or kept for consumption on the premises by members of the public or said club without having . . . a license for sale of liquor by the drink as required by law."

The demurrer, as filed by Dunn, says that not only is the wording of the complaint unintelligible to the average person, but that the 1947 law does not concern cities which do not permit the sale of any liquor in clubs or public places.

Under Advisement

After the filing of the demurrer, Justice of the Peace James O. Pumphrey said he would take the case under advisement and give a ruling in a few days.

The demurring action asks for a dismissal of the case and the exoneration of the bond set on Steinberg shortly after his arrest.

Tax Action Halted To Await Speech

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Democratic senators decided today to hear President Truman's special message to congress tomorrow before taking any action on the Republican $4,700,000,000 income tax cutting bill.

Senator Barkley, D., Ky., told reporters this was agreed upon at a conference of all senate Democrats. The conference was called originally to lay plans for a fight to hold the cut to $4,000,000,000.

Road Over Galena Summit Will Be Open by Wednesday Night

SHOSHONE, March 16—The road over Galena summit from Ketchum into the Stanley basin should be open by Wednesday night, according to H. B. Sternberg, state highway director.

Sternberg reported the highway is now open to the Salmon river side of the summit from Ketchum and the road leading from Stanley to the Blaine-Custer county line is open. About five miles of highway near Alturas lake remains to be cleared.

The 1948 opening of the road will mark the first time in several years the road has been open before April or May, Sternberg said.

He pointed out that the light snowfall in the area this winter has made snow clearing an easy task as compared with previous years.

Highway crews started clearing the road about a month ago and would have had the highway open last week if snowplow equipment hadn't broken down.

The crews were hampered by extremely cold weather the past two weeks and solidly drifted snow on the Salmon river side. About 12 to 18 inches of snow remains on the highway yet to be cleared.

Five inches of fresh snow fell Saturday night near the Galena store at the foot of the summit on the Wood river side.

Forest Ranger Glen Brady warned motorists that the highway may be icy in spots and extreme caution should be used when driving over the summit.

Ninth Annual Sale of Bulls Set Saturday

The ninth annual spring bull sale sponsored by the Idaho Cattlemen's association will be held here Saturday.

Clyde Starr, Salmon, president of the association, said about 75 bulls and 20 cows have been consigned. All are registered Herefords. For the first time all bulls entered in the sale are 17 months old or older.

Starr said all animals would be classified into A, B and C lots and sold in that order through the ring. Judges are C. W. Hickman, head of the department of animal husbandry at the University of Idaho, and Lyman Ipsen, Malad stockman.

A cattleman's banquet and dance will be held following the sale.

The bull committee is headed by Ray V. Swanson of Pocatello.

Other members are Seth Barstedt, Challis; Lloyd Barron, Rupert; Walter Schodde, Burley; Ernest Fields, Gooding; V. J. Lickley and Tom Callen, Jerome.

Consignors entering animals in this sale are Tews brothers, Shoshone; Sherman Furey and sons, May; Axell A. Zollinger, Sublett; Breckenridge brothers, Tetonia; Evan Vanderwood and sons, Malad; O. A. Garrett, Pocatello; David Johnson and sons, McCammon; E. P. Reese, Shoup; Stephen A. Mahaffey, Tendoy; Judson Clark, Jerome; Herbert Chandler, Baker, Ore., and Ernest Fields and sons, Gooding.

Inquiry Board Set

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—President Truman today named a three-member board of inquiry to report on the labor dispute which led to the meat packing strike.

The White House also said Mr. Truman has taken notice of the soft coal walkout and is studying reports on it.

The board to look into the strike of packing house workers includes:

Nathan P. Feinsinger, professor of law at the University of Wisconsin.

Pearce Davis, chairman of the department of business and economics at the Illinois Institute of technology.

Navy Vet Stands Firm in Waldorf Plushy 'Foxhole'

NEW YORK, March 16 (UP)—Richard Earl Cox, 34-year-old Cleveland Tenn., navy veteran, stocked his ninth-floor foxhole at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel with baby food and milk today and said he would quit there with his family indefinitely.

So far there was only a battle of words between the 6ft-a-week civilian photographic worker for the army signal corps and city officials. There was no attempt to force Cox out of the $12.50 a day hotel room which he demanded the city pay for until decent living quarters were found for his family.

Today's communiques said:

Cox: "They know my stand. I plan to stay here indefinitely. I will pay $40 a month toward the rent on this room. If the hotel wants the other $32 a month, it can collect it from the city."

Acting Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri: "This is not a matter for the mayor's office. The city has enough legal bills to pay without worrying about one it hasn't even received yet."

The Waldorf management: "It is a guest of the hotel. If this is a publicity stunt to help him find an apartment, it is okay with us. He was supposed to leave yesterday, but he asked to remain through today. Checkout time is 3 p. m. We'll see what he has to say then."

Jittery U.S. Capital Waits Truman's Message; West Reich Is Voted Into ERP

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP) — This jittery capital feared today that President Truman needs new emergency powers or funds to check communism's creeping invasion of Europe.

The White House alarm bell clanged yesterday with announcement that Mr. Truman would address a joint session of congress tomorrow on the critical foreign situation. He will speak in the house chamber at 10:30 a. m., MST.

Washington was startled by the unexpected White House announcement of a personal presidential appearance before congress. It loosed a sunburst of speculation. Secy. of State George C. Marshall immediately asked postponement of his scheduled appearance this morning before the senate armed services committee.

- Marshall was to have renewed administration pleas for universal military training. But that is a long range project. The capital recalled that officials and official reports recently have stressed a shortage now of military manpower and of weapons, especially fighting airplanes.
- Marshall and others have prepared the way for Mr. Truman with grim statements that the European situation becomes graver by the day. The President told his news conference last week that his confidence in world peace prospects had been shaken by recent events. This followed the communist take-over in Czechoslovakia.

It is reasonably certain Mr. Truman tomorrow will urge faster congressional action on the first $5,300,000,000 installment of the European recovery program. It has passed the senate and waits house approval.

He also is expected to ask house Republican leaders to keep separate the funds for European recovery and for China, Greece and Turkey. Outside the far east and Europe the only critical area of our foreign relations is in Palestine.

Parley Called

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—President Truman today invited congressional leaders to a White House conference at 11:01 a.m. (EST) tomorrow—an hour and a half before he will deliver a foreign policy speech to congress.

Farm Policies Told at Meet In Castleford

CASTLEFORD, March 16—Magic Valley farmers attending the Castleford farm institute Monday night were advised by Virgil Kennedy, University of Idaho economist, to turn to livestock for a better agricultural policy.

Kennedy explained that livestock preserves the land and produces products for which there is no surplus.

He urged continued all-out farm production, stating that American farmers produced one-fifth more in 1947 than in any pre-war year.

Kennedy spoke at a general meeting of farmers, farm wives and 4-H club members in the high school gymnasium. During the afternoon, meetings were conducted for the three groups by specialists from the university.

Speaking to the farmers were Eugene Whitman on agronomy, R. D. Pelky on potatoes and Vance Smith on soils and fertilizers.

Whitman discussed new types of seeds being developed to increase yield and disease resistance in crops.

Pelky said certified seed standards were the best way of getting disease-free crops. He also discussed types of potato diseases and illustrated his talk by showing slides.

Soil testing through the office of the county agent was explained by Smith who also discussed different kinds of fertilizer and methods of applying them to the soil. He recommended several types that were particularly suited for use in soil in this area.

Earl Heidel presided over the men's meeting.

Clothing, gardening and nutrition were discussed before the meeting of

Youth Council Asks $12,000 for Program

A year-around recreation program under the management of a full-time supervisor was laid before the Twin Falls city council Monday by the youth and recreation council with the request for a $12,000 operating budget next year.

As broken down by Charles E. Sieber, president of the council, the recreation budget calls for a $6,000 outlay this summer and $6,000 to maintain a program for the remainder of the year.

Because of the present high cost of operating the city and the doubt which shrouds future revenue from slot machines, Mayor Herbert G. Lauterbach assured members of the committee the recreation budget will be taken into consideration when the city makes up its own budget in May.

The request for the expense money, as outlined by Sieber, is to be separate from any allocation of funds for the construction of a new swimming pool.

Under a three-mill levy voted last year, the council will have an estimated $21,000 at its disposal for financing recreation. No commitments, however, were made by councilmen as to the manner in which this sum is expected to be employed when it is available May 1.

In his reply to the committeemen appearing at the meeting, Mayor Lauterbach said: "We don't know what's going to happen to this nice juicy revenue" (from slot machines), so the council will have to plan carefully next year's expenditure until definite action is taken on the future."

The stand of the recreation committee, as explained by John D. Platt, high school principal, revolved around the acquisition of a paid recreation director to utilize what the city has at hand in the way of recreation facilities.

In the opinion of the committee, Platt said, it is "best to take the bull by the horns" and get a program underway, rather than wait for the construction of costly buildings.

He stressed further that under the new budget a recreational program for both youths and adults could be developed.

Other business brought before the council included the adoption of a permit system for the use and storage of explosives within the city limits. The permits, obtainable without charge, will enable city officials to keep a check on the location of explosives at all times.

A representative of the Bacon Produce company pointed out to the council that elm trees about the city are being destroyed by Dutch elm scale, a tree disease. He said his company would spray the trees with a dormant oil spray for 75 cents a gallon, using from five to nine gallons on a tree. The proposal was tabled for further study.

L. M. Larsen, Twin Falls, president of the Magic Valley Investment company, brought before the council a request for city engineering supervision in the plotting of a sewer lateral into the Willow Lane subdivision of the Yeatman addition.

A motion to install 100 street lights, principally in the north end of Twin Falls, was read by Councilman Truman Greenhalgh and approved in the final move before adjournment.

PLANE OVERDUE

SALT LAKE CITY, March 16 (AP)—A low-wing monoplane was 24 hours overdue on a flight from St. George, Utah, to Las Vegas, Nev., the civil aeronautics administration office reported today.

Plea for Visit By "Freedom" Train Denied

Efforts of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce to arrange a visit of the "Freedom train" to Twin Falls were denied Tuesday in a letter received from J. Edward Shugrue, national director of the American Heritage foundation, organization sponsoring the nation-wide tour of the train.

The attempt to provide a local stop by the train was started about three months ago when it was first learned that the train would pass through this area. The first appeal to the foundation to schedule a stop in Twin Falls was denied about a month ago.

Dates Rearranged

Then it was learned the train's schedule was changed to provide a stop in Boise on Easter Sunday, March 28, in place of an earlier date. Boise refused the visit on Easter Sunday and the Boise stop was rescheduled for March 29. The train is scheduled to visit Pocatello March 27.

When the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce learned of the change in schedule for Boise, further efforts were made to schedule a stop at Twin Falls.

No Day for Servicing

However, Shugrue, in a letter received here Tuesday, declared that one day each week was set aside for service for the train. He said it is impossible to bring the train to Twin Falls on Easter Sunday, the date reserved for servicing the train. Priceless documents of historical significance will be on display at Pocatello and Boise between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. on the days the train visits those cities.

"Your city's interest in securing a visit of the Freedom train is deeply appreciated," Shugrue wrote, "and we regret that the limited time at our disposal has made it necessary that we refuse your request."

Local Option Lids Voted for Rentals

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—The house voted 135 to 83 today to take rent control powers from federal officials and give full authority to local boards to raise rents or to lift ceilings entirely.

The action came on a motion by Rep. Monroney, D., Okla., to strike the local option provision from the rent bill.

With this issue settled the house pressed toward passage of the bill extending rent control, if the local boards want it, to April 1, 1949.

Monroney challenged the local option as unconstitutional.

Vets Exempt?

WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—Some high army officials were reported today to favor exemptions for veterans if it becomes necessary to revive the military draft.

If and when selective service is again put into force, it was said, these officials believe it should apply to men 18 to 25 without previous military service. There are an estimated 2,000,000 non-veterans in this age group.

Youth Storm Expected

Mention of "coup preparedness" also recalls the situation in Czechoslovakia, which may cause a storm tomorrow in the United Nations security council. It seemed unlikely that Russia could block an airing at Lake Success of the coup in which the communists seized power in Prague. The council will decide tomorrow whether to place on its calendar Chile's demand for an investigation of Russia's role in the coup.

The communist party in Czechoslovakia announced extension of its grip to the school system. The education ministry announced a compulsory system for children up to 15 and a work-or-study plan for those of 15 or over. Those who cannot pass scholarship tests at 15 must work in trades or industry.

Italy Bolsters Police

In Italy, where a crucial test of communist power will come with the April 18 elections, the government has added 30,000 well-armed army men to the public security forces. Vice Premier Randolfo Pacciardi said that, with this aid, security forces "can break any illegal attempt from the left."

Relief goods to be distributed strategically for the post-election period to "meet any attempted revolt," Pacciardi said. He added that he did not believe the communists could win a majority in the election.

Turkey Next?

Some Americans believe Turkey is listed after Italy on the Soviet expansion timetable. Washington was watching Turkey for signs of renewed Russian pressure. They had in mind an announcement last night that Moscow has decided to send a new ambassador to Ankara.

In the midst of the spreading nervousness, Russia announced she will reduce her army to the 21-year-old and 22-year-old age groups by March 31, when all the older groups will be demobilized. Russia has not announced figures on her army's current strength. In March, 1947, Premier Stalin listed December, Rep. Charles A. Eaton, R., N. J., said Russia had an army of 4,000,000 men. He said he got the figure from the war department.

RANSOM DEMANDED

SHANGHAI, March 16 (AP)—Chinese communists are reported to have demanded $250,000 ransom for four American marines they captured Christmas day. Navy sources today refused to discuss the report.

Chamber at Burley Seeks to Prevent Removal of County's Sugar Factory

BURLEY, March 16—Measures to assure retention of a sugar factory in Cassia county were discussed here Monday in a special noon meeting of the Burley Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was called after rumors asserted that the Amalgamated Sugar company factory at Burley would close. Letters from W. A. Benntlig, president of the company, in answer to inquiries, did not brighten the outlook.

In his letter, read at the meeting, Benning said he could not "assure the people the Burley factory would operate this fall."

Burley business men, anxious to keep alive the town's biggest private business, which has 40 full-time employes and 300 seasonal workers, discussed the possibility of getting another company to build a sugar processing plant here.

Plans were made which included the appointment of a committee by Frank Spencer, chamber president, to contact all farm organizations within the county for the purpose of forming a general committee.

In addition to the businessmen who hope to keep the factory open in Burley, stockmen who depend on the factory for feed for animals at the stockmen's feed yards, are working with the chamber.

The Burley factory was completed in 1912 and is the oldest factory in the company's chain. It was built at a cost of nearly $1,000,000.

However, the company president said the Burley plant was the least efficient of the company's holdings. He explained that the plant was the concern's smallest and had the most outmoded equipment.

"If the sugar beet planting were as great as in 1947 the plant might operate this fall," the letter read, "but if not enough beets are available the Burley plant will be the first to close," he added.

Loss of the factory, the chamber president explained, would not only put the 40 regular employes out of work but would result in a loss of considerable tax revenue by Cassia county.

Average Rent Only $29.33, Realtor Avers

Completely shattering the case of proponents of public housing, figures released by the bureau of census show that median rent in the United States was only $29.33 in 1947, according to W. A. Ostrander, secretary of the Magic Valley Realty board.

"Pleas for a huge federal building program on the premise that private enterprise is not 'taking care' of the low income people were proved groundless by these figures," Ostrander said.

Further study of the bureau report disclosed that 90 per cent of the ordinary dwelling units in the country were in good condition or in need of only minor repairs, he said.

"This destroys another of the favorite lines of the public housers that the country is overrun with what they term 'substandard housing,'" he continued.

That median rent of $29.33 means half of the tenants in the country, or more than 8,830,000 of them, paid $29.33 or less a month, he explained.

"In fact," said Ostrander, "the figures show that 4,100,000 tenants paid rents of less than $20 a month.

"In view of these figures, it is difficult to understand the sudden revival of the clamor for public housing, until one analyzes the leaders making the most noise.

"They are generally those with a creds new for this country—that the ordinary citizen is not capable of thinking and doing for himself, but that an all-knowing federal government—headed, of course, by a few hand-picked men—must plan his life and coddle him from birth to grave.

"Federal public housing should by no means be confused with slum elimination. The latter is without question a praiseworthy and desirable objective.

"But it is strictly a local problem.

"It can, and should be, handled on a local level wherever it exists, when our supply of housing permits demolition programs."

Council Opens Move to Close 'Rowdy' Place

W. E. Coontz, owner of The Smoker, 201 Shoshone street south, was ordered by the Twin Falls city council Monday night to appear at the next council meeting and show cause why his place of business should not be closed.

Earlier Monday, his attorney, Roy Smith, entered a plea of not guilty in police court to a charge that Coontz was running a "disorderly place of business."

Arrested Saturday

Coontz was arrested Saturday night by city police after allegedly engaging in a brawl with a customer, Earl Johensen. He was released on his own recognizance and his case came why his place of business should not be closed.

In asking the council to have Coontz appear, Police Chief Howard W. Gillette said that The Smoker has long been a "hang-out" for known thieves and prostitutes and that no effort was made on the part of the owner to stop persistent fighting and drunkenness on the premises.

No Cooperation

He added that in the past, city police have asked Coontz to cooperate in ridding his place of business of these undesirable people, but he has refused. "The brawl Saturday night was the climax," Gillette concluded.

A resolution was passed by the council ordering Coontz to appear before the council and show cause why his license should not be revoked.

Six applications for building permits, with estimated costs totaling $7,200, were filed in the Twin Falls city clerk's office Tuesday.

Seeking the permits are A. Anderson, 120 Washington street, to build a shed to cost $3,000; F. A. Tidwell, 1107 Kimberly road, to remodel a one-family house at an estimated cost of $2,000, and Herman Grabert, 172 Lois street, to construct a bedroom addition to a farm house for an estimated cust of $1,000.

Others are Arthur Smith, 1706 Fourth avenue east, to build an addition for $700 to his home; Grace A. Tobin, 141 Shoshone street north, to erect an outside fire escape for an estimated $400; and A. R. Miller, who wants to build a storage building at 243 Tyler street at an estimated cost of $100.

Worker Frightens Would-Be Robber

An attempted burglary-of-Young's Dairy plant at 149 Fourth avenue west was foiled early Tuesday morning by the arrival of an employe who frightened away an intruder in the building at the time, Twin Falls police report.

The employe, Glen Stanger, told police he arrived at the dairy plant at 4 a. m. and heard someone walking around. When he started to investigate, Stanger added, the would-be burglar fled.

Police checking the premises later said an office window had been broken and an inside door had been opened with a wrecking bar. Company officials said nothing was missing.

4.2 Per Cent Cut for Farm Funds Sought

customs collections on agricultural imports.

The bill will come before the house for debate late this week.

The deepest actual cut made by the committee was in funds asked for production and subsistence loans handled by the farmers' home administration. The President sought $75,000,000; the committee approved $60,000,000.

It granted in full the $15,000,000 requested for loans to help tenant farmers buy and improve rented land.

And the $400,000,000 loan authority approved for the rural electrification administration is $100,000,000 more than the President asked and $175,000,000 more than REA was given this year.

The committee said farm import duties next year are estimated at $135,000,000. After earmarking $65,000,000 of this for the school lunch program, it ordered the remaining $70,000,000 used to promote consumption of agricultural commodities.

The committee added $6,000,000 to the President's request for $38,000,000 for soil conservation operations managed by the department itself. This is in addition to the $225,000,000 authorized in payments to farmers for following conservation practices under the triple A program.

Per other major departmental activities, here is what the committee recommended:

Bureau of agricultural economics: Requested, $4,363,900; granted, $4,275,400.

Experiment Units Cut

Office of experiment stations: Requested $7,819,250; granted $6,481,068.

Bureau of animal husbandry: Requested $10,300,500; granted, $10,273,500.

Agricultural research administration: Requested, $8,250,180; granted, $8,196,470.

Bureau of entomology and plant quarantine: Requested $7,818,000; granted $7,818,000.

Food service: Requested $40,902,500; granted, $40,340,675.

Forest roads and trails: Requested, $13,050,000; granted, $14,750,000.

Gooding Farmers Urged by ACA to Sign Spud Goals

GOODING, March 16 — Gooding county farmers have been urged by Charles P. Baker, local agricultural conservation association chairman, to sign up for desired potato acreage as soon as possible at the local office.

Baker explained that the goal for the 1948 Gooding county crop is now being made up. The goal has been decreased from 3,667 acres in 1947 to 3,450 acres.

Farmers who will plant less than three acres of potatoes need not ask for a potato goal, Baker said.

He pointed out that rates for late or northern grown potatoes will be announced at a later date. Growers will be eligible for price support only to Dec. 31, unless Congress directs a new ruling, Baker added.

The government supports prices by buying potatoes or making loans at support rates.

Farm 'Placement' Office Scheduled

A special farm placement interviewer will open an office at the Twin Falls labor camp, according to A. J. Meeks, manager of the Idaho state employment service office here.

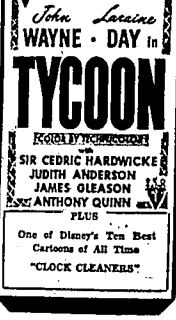

The interviewer, John Hardin, expects to open his office shortly after the farm placement meeting to be held here March 24-26. He will be connected with the local USES branch.

At the camp, Hardin will interview and register workers for the farm placement program. He will be mainly concerned with placement of Mexican nationals.

Hardin, a native of Missouri, has lived here since last fall. He formerly worked for the U.S. extension service under the emergency farm placement program.

Idaho Forest Chief Resigns For Business

BOISE, March 16 (AP)—State Forester Stanton Ready has resigned to take a position with the Craig Mountain Lumber company of Winchester in Lewis county.

His resignation will be effective June 1.

Edward Woosley, state land commissioner, said the state land board would select a successor soon. The state cooperative board of forestry yesterday discussed two possible successors and recommended one to the state land board. Woosley declined to comment on who was recommended.

Served Since 1935

Ready has been state forester since March 24, 1944. He joined the state department of forestry in Aug. 1935, as deputy state forester for northern Idaho. Headquarters were located in Moscow until Oct., 1935, when the north Idaho branch office was moved to Coeur d'Alene.

The state cooperative board of forestry yesterday decided against an extensive campaign against the tussock moth this year. Ready declared natural enemies of the moth have reduced the population considerably.

Panel Report Presented

Woosley presented a report of the governor's forest study committee, which recommended an additional survey of the state-owned timber and the hiring of two men for a two-year period to do the job.

The committee also favored cutting of timber on a selective basis, installation of mufflers or other arresters on Diesel motors to protect against forest fires and establishment of forest and land protection studies in Idaho schools.

A special meeting of the state cooperative board of forestry has been called for May 5 to discuss proposed changes in Idaho state forestry laws, Woosley said.

County Board Tells Plan for School Unity

GOODING, March 16—Reorganization plans for the Gooding county school district were submitted by members of the reorganization board at a public hearing held recently in the Gooding junior high school.

Speakers for the meeting were Kenneth Dean, Boise, state reorganization director, and Asher B. Wilson, Twin Falls, adviser for reorganization in district four, which comprises eight Magic Valley counties.

Outlines Plan

Wilson outlined the reorganization plan from the time it was originated 12 years ago to the present day. He pointed out that under the reorganization plan every child in the county would receive an equal chance for an education. He added that if the plan were adopted, there would be no change in school taxes for county residents.

It was suggested that Gooding county be reorganized into three districts, two class A districts and one class B.

Three Districts

The two class A districts would be Gooding and Wendell and the class B district would be Hagerman.

The plan was approved at the public hearing and will be submitted to the state reorganization board for approval.

Members of the reorganization board are John W. Jones, Hagerman; T. W. Harper, Bliss; Austin Schoweler, Wendell; Don Fredericksen, Thorne Creek; J. W. Newbaugh, jr., West Point, and Florence Hughes, Gooding.

Early Filing for Potato Acreages In County Urged

Potato growers who have not submitted their intended potato acreage figures for 1948 are requested to do so as soon as possible, according to Bert Jansen, chairman of the county agricultural conservation association.

The ACA office has received many requests for 1948 potato allotments, Jansen said. However, no allotment figures will be available until all growers have listed their intended acreage, he added.

Jansen declared the intended acreage figures should be as exact as possible. If a grower lists more than his intended acreage it might affect his acreage in future seasons or he might hinder the chances of other growers coming under the price support program.

West end growers should contact W. A. Glasgow at the Mountain States Implement company, Buhl, to submit their figures, Jansen said. Those in the east end should turn in their intended acreage at the ACA office in Twin Falls.

Scout Executives Set Meeting Here

Members of the executive board of the Snake River council will meet at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday in the Rogerson hotel, according to Herbert R. West, Scout executive.

John Keith, Shoshone, camping chairman, will report on summer camp plans. Membership and financial reports also will be given at the meeting.

West said 36 board members from eight counties are expected to attend the meeting.

GIVE RADIO A CHANCE

"You're in the newspaper business; what is your idea about radio stations having freedom of expression?"

A friend of our asked us that question the other day. No doubt it was prompted by present efforts to lift the federal communications commission regulation which prohibits radio stations and chains from "editorializing."

If he wants to, the editor of an American newspaper can print only one side of a controversial story. He can distort news, unless the result is libelous. He can follow an editorial policy dictated by an advertiser, a political boss or any other outsider.

Although there are mighty few newspapers that indulge in any such prostitutions of America's free press, there is no law forbidding any of these things. Honesty and pride of craft hold most of this country's newspapers on a level in keeping with this cherished principle of freedom. That pride is rooted in the knowledge that the proprietors and employers of our newspapers are the heirs and custodians of a great legacy.

Within the limits of human frailty, we believe the American press can be proud of its trusteeship. There have been abuses of its freedom, but these have not been so serious or so general as to threaten its withdrawal. The press seeks the public's confidence and approval. Those papers that survive have received that approval and, with few exceptions, merited the confidence.

What would the public think if American newspapers suddenly were to be prohibited, by law or threat, from expressing their own opinions? One can imagine the loud and general protest that would follow.

But that is exactly the situation in radio today, and has been the situation almost since the birth of commercial broadcasting. Persons or organizations buying broadcast time may express all sorts of opinions. But those who operate a station or network must not "editorialize."

Present efforts to give radio stations freedom of expression are meeting the same old objections. Both sides of the story would not be presented, objectors say. The people would be at the mercy of big business and saturated with "corporate viewpoints."

The newspaper profession potentially threatens all these horrid possibilities. But nobody wants to legislate the editorial page out of existence, just to be safe. Nobody wants to pass laws requiring both sides of a story or demanding a letter-to-the-editor department where readers may have their say. These things are common and voluntary practices of the press.

Why are the fearful so certain it would be different in radio? Radio is over 21 now, and a responsible industry. And it is even more competitive than the newspaper business.

The awful dangers pictured can't really be so bad. If truth or error is the question, the listener can check with his newspaper. If it's a matter of opinion, the listener can take it or leave it, as he does in reading newspaper editorials. The radio people at least should be given a chance at the constitutional guarantee of free expression. Besides, we'd like to know now and then what KTFI, KVMV and KLIX might have to say on certain issues.

LOW-CEILING LABOR POLICY

The Air Line Pilots association is a union made up of well-educated—well-paid men whose intelligence, we would guess, is above average. But judging from a recent statement by its president, that intelligence has not been incorporated into union policy.

The statement, by David L. Behncke, is this: "I am beginning to believe it will probably be necessary in the future to have at least one strike a year to let the air lines know the pilots mean business."

The business of striking for striking's sake is discredited and outmoded. And what would it accomplish? Win friends among airline officials and delay, inconvenienced passengers?

Imagine the public reaction if a corporation head announced: "We'll have to have at least one lockout a year to show the unions we mean business!"

NON-POLITICAL MUSIC

Some of America's leading composers sponsored a concert of music by Hanns Eisler in New York the other night. Mr. Eisler is a brother of Gerhardt Eisler, reputed top kremlin agent in America. Brother Hanns is going to Europe voluntarily, rather than be deported as an undesirable alien.

The critics who reviewed the concert tagged him as a gifted man. They wrote about his music—which they liked, in varying degrees—not about his politics. Nobody heard any red propaganda in the notes.

It's just as well that Prokofiev, Shostakovich and those other recently scolded Soviet composers couldn't read those non-political reviews. They would probably have made them feel unhappier than they do already.

The man who invented work made one bad mistake—he didn't finish it.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Two federal institutions ordinarily immune from partisan attack have drawn fire on capitol hill because of Republican leaders' belief that they have engaged in politics in the turbulent presidential year. They are the supreme court of the United States and the federal bureau of investigation. They may soon figure in an old-fashioned, knock-down, drag-out battle on the house floor.

Ray Tucker

Chief Justice Fred Vinson's black-gowned family has been criticized because of its handling of a case involving anti-segregation clauses in rural estate covenants. Several petitioners have asked that they be declared unconstitutional and that the federal courts refuse to lend their agencies to eliminate them from rental, lease or sale documents.

The argument on this politically controversial subject was heard by the court more than two months ago, and, as it simply involved a review of lower bodies' rulings, in the normal routine Vinson's court would have reached a decision by now. Several more involved cases have been argued and settled since the segregation matter was considered.

POLITICAL—In view of the southern revolt over President Truman's civil rights program, politically minded GOP-ers maintain that the supreme court is deliberately stalling on this issue.

They predict that there will be no action until after the November election, or certainly until after the Philadelphia convention. They point out that an anti-segregation decision in the midst of the Dixie uprising might prove disastrous to the party.

Lest these partisan shots at the highest court in the land shock the public, it must be noted that this institution does not command the same respect that it did before the court-packing bill and his subsequent appointments. Ex-FDR Roosevelt and Truman appointee has had a lengthy background of practical politics and was named to the tribunal direct from a political post.

Anyway, GOP orators are preparing speeches which will ask the embarrassing question: "How long is the supreme court going to pigeonhole this important anti-segregation question?"

The Republican strategists admit frankly that it is political rather than judicial curiosity which impels them to propound that embarrassing query.

ROLE—J. Edgar Hoover's FBI has already been raked over the coals for the alleged aid it gave the administration in whitewashing Kansas City election frauds committed by the Pendergast machine which gave President Truman his start in public life.

Attorney-General Clark has admitted that his investigation, along with the revised Kansas City Star reporters who had uncovered the alleged drifting of the ballot box. Now that the votes have been stolen from the local courthouse, there is no evidence on which to indict the guilty.

In an effort to exonerate Clark and Hoover, a subordinate has assumed full responsibility for any official negligence. He is Edward Tamm, Hoover's No. 3 man, who had charge of the vote inquiry. He has since been nominated by President Truman for the federal bench in the district of Columbia, to the amazement of Democratic politicians and lawyers.

The appointment has been opposed almost unanimously by the D. C. Bar association. And his role in the Pendergast fraud inquiry has so far prevented the senate judiciary committee from reporting favorably on his nomination.

• • •

GANGSTERS—The parole of four Capone gangsters has also threatened to make the department of justice an issue in the coming campaign. The parole was made possible only after the government's request for dismissal of a mail frauds indictment over the protest of the former U. S. attorney who obtained the true bill.

Although Attorney-General Clark says that he did not discuss the matter with the U. S. parole board, members of that body are appointed by him. The parolees now admit that they may have acted hastily in giving the gangsters their freedom.

In both of these sallies, the Republicans are hitting at President Truman. Although they may not be able to make their charges stick against the SC or FBI, they aim to create the same sort of impression that the Democrats stirred up when Harry Daugherty headed the department of justice under Presidents Harding and Coolidge—namely, that there is something politically and basically wrong with the two institutions.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

ANOTHER PROBLEM SOLVED

We have heard a great many expressions of deep concern as to what procedure is acceptable when one is a guest at a dinner table and finds that his nose seems to need blowing. We will admit that there are problems facing the country right now which seem to be more pressing than this, but that is only because we are not sitting at a dinner table with an itching or clogged nose. It is easy to scoff at problems when you are not faced with them.

So far as we have been able to ascertain Emily Post and other authorities have not delved very deeply into this problem. We have no doubt but what they have been confronted with the issue all right, but we suspect that they were stumped to find the right answer and hence preferred to ignore the matter. But not us. We are not stumped, and if we were, we would still find an answer.

We are assuming in the remarks which follow that the clogged or running nose is in such an advanced condition that it is impossible to ignore it or suppress it without resorting to some overt act, as the lawyers like to say. If it possible to obtain relief by unobtrusive passes at the nose with a napkin or by inaudible sniffling, we would of course recommend that these tactics be employed. But we are prepared to face boldly the question of what to do in the more serious cases where these mild measures are altogether inadequate.

At the outset the guest must decide whether several soft snorts are better than one big blow. Personally, we prefer the big blow, if it gets results, although it can be overdone and it has some disconcerting aspects. We never think it is safe for at a nice dinner party sniffling delicately into a handkerchief every few seconds when he obviously needed to get down to business. It just naturally worries a person. You want to help him and you can't.

Nor do we recommend any program of light but persistent sniffling. Generally speaking these sniffles are louder than you think and they only postpone some more drastic action which may have to be taken at some altogether inopportune moment, such as when you have just received a cup of boiling coffee or a bowl of thin gravy.

The idea should be to get the handkerchief out, turn around and get ready to blow without knocking your neighbor's fork through her cheek or upsetting something.

Of course if you prefer diplomacy and subterfuge to a direct approach you can wait until somebody says something which is mildly funny, or which could plausibly be called witty, and seize this opportunity to pretend that you are convulsed with laughter. Grabbing your handkerchief in the confusion which follows, you can laugh and snort into it at the same time and maybe get away with it if you are clever enough.

But we like the bold decisive approach such as the dentist uses when he picks up his pliers, grabs the aching tooth and yanks it out by the roots. He could make false passes at it, and then try to pull the tooth out when you weren't looking and didn't suspect anything. But he wants to get your money and get you on your way. He hasn't any time for foolishness, and neither have you.

So when you are in the middle of an elegant dinner and your nose itches, or worse, grab your handkerchief and blow—hard. People like bold and decisive action and it gets results.—Wallowa County Chieftain.

POT SHOTS

JUST HUMAN NATURE

Dear Gent:

Why is it that we unfortunate taxpayers always wait until the last possible day to make out income tax returns? It isn't that we don't know we have to file returns, 'cause they're always due on March 15.

When I dashed down to the post-office Sunday to mail my returns, I was rather surprised to find the postoffice doing such good business on the Sabbath. So it appears other people besides yours truly wait until the last minute.

By the way, do you happen to know anyone who completed that tax chore way back in January?

NOTHING NEW

Dear Potso:

Now that the annual ordeal is over, perhaps some of your readers can see a bit of humor in this tax situation. Until about 5 p.m. Monday, I'm afraid there wasn't a smell of anything funny in the whole business for me.

Anyway, if you've ever read any of old Bill Shakespeare's stuff, you may recall a certain little passage in which some guy is warned to "beware the Ides of March."

The way I figure it out, the ancient Romans must have had a system of taxes on income with returns due on the Ides of March. Possibly the Ides of March is also March 15, huh?

NOT SO SWELLED UP

Dear Gent:

I would like to correct the story in the Sunday T-N. People in Shoshone are NOT swelled up. It is true that a good many of the gentry are afflicted with an ailment sometimes known as mumps. It also is true, so I hear, that our local physicians is among the victims of this insidious disease.

But we are NOT swelled up about it. I believe the correct terminology would be "puffed up." And we certainly aren't swelled up about being puffed up, if you follow me.

Excuse me while I go consume another dill pickle.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

BOB HOPE

The old professor, Kay Kyser, was honored by NBC the other day on his 10th anniversary in radio.

I can understand why NBC was willing to do this. They should be grateful. If it wasn't for us 10 year boys they couldn't afford to keep the cinasy programs on the air.

Bob Hope

But I was glad to see Kay recognized, as his career is sort of a Horatio Alger with a tobacco auctioneer on the side.

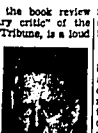

Kay started in my home town, Cleveland, in a chop suey joint. He was the bus boy in charge of any sauce.

Then he got promoted. He used to steam open the fortune cookies to make sure the fortunes didn't have any bad words in them. From there it was only a short jump to a big [illegible] his years in radio, never forgot that he was a southern gentleman . . . southern gentleman . . . that's a bill billy with money.

There are some who would imply that Kay had turned out to be a professional southerner since they threw him off the program rain the other day. Seems he wrote "you all" on the bottom of the declaration of independence.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Lewis Gannett, the book review editor and "literary critic" of the New York Herald-Tribune, is a loud and influential voice in the expression of the policy of this aged and politically degenerate publication.

Westbrook Pegler

The Herald-Tribune, originally the Tribune, was known for many years as a Republican partisan paper with complications. It was pro-British and high-Episcopalian and it propagated bridge and squash.

Whatever its formal political faith now, it certainly has compromised its old fundamental kiver-to-kiver-ism.

As I say, Mr. Gannett is the head man of the daily department devoted to bookish interests.

It is not necessary to interpret for you Gannett's political inclinations and objectives. You can roll your own conclusions.

In that invaluable, rare reference work, committee print, appendix, part IX, communist front organizations, published by the government printing office in 1944, Mr. Gannett is mentioned 17 times.

I am not insinuating that he is un-American or a communist in reporting this. That would be the same technique used by many of those with whom we find this punch associated over many years, but it is not my way.

However, the congressional committee was called the special committee on Un-American activities, and the mention of communist-front organizations stands on the cover. Those are facts to be interpreted as you will.

• • •

First citation, page 311—Lewis S. Gannett is mentioned, with William Z. Foster, the present chief of the Russian international Communist party, and with other notorious communists, as a member of the national committee of the All-America Anti-Imperialist league.

His name, among the others, occurred on the letterhead of a communication which greeted the editor—not as "Dear Comrade," the salutation employed by the communists the world over.

Regarding the All-America Anti-Imperialist league, the report to congress flatly said it was a communist organization. Not a communist-front or a pro-communist or red or pink organization, but a communist organization.

The committee informed congress that Francis Biddle, when he was attorney general, named this league as a communist front and said: "There is no doubt whatever about the correctness of this characterization. The fourth national convention report of the workers (Communist) party, Aug. 1925, said: Our party was largely instrumental in the establishment of the All-America Anti-Imperialist league."

• • •

On page 310, Lewis Gannet and others, including notorious communists, are listed as members of another committee. By the way, the communist movement produces committees, leagues, councils, and congresses "organizations" in bewildering abundance.

As you will observe if you study the priceless reports of the Dies, Rankin and Thomas congressional committees on un-American activities, a few hundred names do duty on many letterheads. One front dissolves into another.

This Anti-Imperialist league, for a typical example, dissolved into the League Against War and Fascism, which, in turn, faded into the League for Peace and Democracy.

The committee on which Gannett is named as a member on page 310 is the American Committee for Anti-Nazi Seamen. The congressional report devotes a whole page to the genealogy and character of this committee, but it will suffice to say that it calls the outfit a communist front and says its purpose was to supplant nazism with communism in Germany.

• • •

On page 337, "Lewis S. Gannett, book review editor, New York Herald-Tribune," is listed as a signer of a letter by the American Committee for Democracy and Intellectual Freedom. The report calls this committee a communist front and says it was "strongly preoccupied with the defense of communists."

On page 384, we come to a honey. Here we find Gannett, of the Herald-Tribune's literary department, a fellow empowered to promote his political prejudices and disparage or ignore the writings of those with whom he disagrees, listed as a "director" of the American Fund for Public Service.

Now read closely here:

"The American Fund for Public Service was established by Charles Garland, son of the wealthy James A. Garland," the report says.

"Young Garland, conditioned against wealth through radical acquaintances at Harvard, declined to accept his inheritance for his own personal use.

"Instead he established in 1922 the American Fund for Public Service with $1000 with which consisted largely of conservative securities. During the lush 20s, the fund grew to some $3000,000. A self-perpetuating board of directors was set up for the purpose of handing out this easy money.

"Sidney Hillman was among them. Associated with Hillman were Roger N. Baldwin, William Z. Foster, Lewis Gannett—"

Right after Foster, "national chairman of the Communist party for many years," we find the book reviewer of the New York Herald-Tribune on the board of directors of a fund whose donations reveal "a strong preference for" communist causes.

"The Daily Worker, official organ of the party, received $57,000," says this report to congress. "The New Masses, communist publication whose ownership was vested in the American Fund for Public Service, got $54,500. The Vanguard Press was established by the fund with a donation of $120,000. A series of propaganda books on Russia, edited by Jerome Davis, was one of the first large publishing projects of the Vanguard Press.

"The Federated Press (described by the report as 'a communist news service') got $70,000. The Russian reconstruction farms received $36,000. The international labor defense was the fund's beneficiary in the sum of at least $54,000." The international labor defense is described as a "front."

• • •

On page 771, Gannett, of the Herald-Tribune, is named as one who signed a "golden book of American friendship with the Soviet union." The Dies committee called this "book" a pro-Soviet propaganda enterprise.

The inscription above the signatures reads, "I hereby inscribe my name in greeting to the people of the Soviet union on the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Soviet republic."

The so-called but miscalled Soviet republic was founded through the most horrible massacres in modern history down to that time. Its purpose was to put down the struggling revolutionary republican government of Alexander Kerensky, the leader of the real Russian revolution against the czar.

Lenin and Trotsky were far from Russia and from harm when this revolution occurred. They then came back in and organized the butchery to annihilate all the decent, intelligent and patriotic Russians who should be unable to escape as refugees.

This "Soviet republic" which Gannett of the literary department of the Herald-Tribune saluted, never has been a republic and always has been a dictatorship of a few Hitlerian butchers over the Russian people. Gannett undoubtedly knows this.

Its very purpose was to eliminate the best and most intelligent Russians by massacre or flight so that the remaining millions of civilized Russians who had fought on our side in the first war and now became waifs, some of the women reduced to prostitution in the seaport cesspools of the world. They were equally apathetic toward the slaughter, starvation and deportation of Armenians and Assyrians.

That is all we have room for in today's lesson in the true political spirit and policy of those who dominate the New York Herald-Tribune, formerly recognized and trusted as a Republican newspaper.

Meat from most sharks can be used for human food.

Little Hope of Early Ireland Union Viewed

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Eamon de Valera undoubtedly was voicing the burning hope of his people when he predicted in New York the other day that Eire and northern Ireland ultimately would be united into one nation.

MacKenzie

His prediction also was pleasing to the ears of the host of Irish Americans who welcomed him back to the city of his birth. The fighting Irishman, who lost the prime ministership of Eire as the result of the recent general election, after holding that position 16 years, declared the day will arrive when an Irish leader will come to the United States and announce that Ireland "from sea to sea is now completely free."

"I admit," he added, "that I would like to be that person."

No Limit Set

I've known de Valera a long time and have so much respect for his acumen that I certainly wouldn't challenge his forecast. However, I note that he didn't place any time limit on the prediction and is rather in the position of the Scotsman who was charged with breach of promise. The judge asked him:

"Handy, did you promise to marry this girl?"

"Yes, my lord," replied the defendant, "but I didn't say when."

De Valera doesn't say how soon he expects the union of Eire and northern Ireland to take place. Of course time heals a lot of wounds but, having studied that situation at close range for many years, I should say that the chances of an early union are rather slim.

Hard to Believe

It's hard to believe it possible that there could be such a clash of interests between two sections of a tight little isle like the land of silver lakes and the shamrock. But the bitterness of the differences has been recorded in blood many times through the generations.

The chief difficulty has been religious. Northern Ireland—or "Ulster," as the old timers like to call it — is preponderantly Protestant while Eire is largely Catholic. Many heads have been cracked with shillelaghs in that argument.

Banquet to Honor Methodist Bishop

A banquet in honor of Bishop Francis J. McConnell, Portland, Ore., will be held Wednesday in the Twin Falls Methodist church by the Methodist Men's club.

Men from all Methodist churches in Magic Valley will attend the banquet, the Rev. George G. Rosebery, superintendent of the Methodist church in southern Idaho, said. Reservations for more than 250 places have been received, he added.

Bishop McConnell, bishop of the Portland area, will speak at a public meeting in the church following the banquet. The public meeting is to begin at 8:45 p. m.

Former Resident Of Area May Be Reclamation Head

Frank A. Banks, former resident of Magic Valley, who was head construction engineer of the American Falls reservoir, is being considered for the position of federal commissioner of reclamation, according to an article published in the Spokane Chronicle.

In addition to his work on the American Falls project, Banks also served as a construction engineer on the Jackson lake reservoir in Wyoming and was construction superintendent of the Grand Coulee project in Washington.

N. V. Sharp, a director of the Twin Falls Canal company, said that Banks is one of the top reclamation engineers in the west and would be a fine man for the job.

According to the Associated Press dispatch taken from the Chronicle, Banks, who is now manager of the Columbia basin irrigation project, "is being groomed as federal commissioner of reclamation."

Rockefellers in Dog Business For 'Protection,' Boyle Finds

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—The Rockefellers have been in the oil business for some time.

But did you know they sell dogs, too?

This minor phase of the Rockefeller financial empire was discovered by a friend of ours recently whose pet Airedale had died. His wife was so unhappy that he decided to buy her another dog of the same breed to take her mind off the loss.

BOYLE

He called the American Kennel club, and the woman there suggested he get in touch with the kennels of William A. Rockefeller, jr., on the family's Pocantico estate in upper Westchester county.

Feeling somewhat like the man who went to a gasoline station to get his cigarette lighter filled, our friend drove out to the estate.

But he received a friendly welcome from Mrs. Tom Pyle, the kennell master's wife, who showed him about.

"The kennel was a two-story cut-stone building of English type with oak floors and a herring-bone pattern," he said. "They had almost two dozen Airedales there, and I don't know how many Mastiffs. I didn't get to the Mastiff section."

Mrs. Pyle explained to him that the Mastiffs and Airedales were trained as watchdogs to accompany guards on their patrols around the estate, which consists of thousands of acres. Another Rockefeller kennel in Connecticut also has a number of Bedlington terriers for show purposes. One won "best in show" rating—highest honor in dogdom—at the recent Westminister Kennel club competition in Madison Square Garden.

The Mastiffs and Airedales aren't just ordinary canine flatfoots. They are sent to an "obedience school" and have to graduate before they can go on patrol duty.

"We merely breed enough for replacement purposes," said Mrs. Pyle. When there is an unintentional surplus, the extras are sold."

Our friend paid $75 for a five-months-old pup, and left feeling a little sorry he hadn't got to meet the owner.

"He's a good pup, but I have to fill his crankcase with oil every day," he said, adding: "cod liver oil, I mean."

Small Tools Sought For Cub Scout Use

Small tools are needed for woodcraft and handicraft projects of the Lincoln PTA Cub Scout pack No. 7, according to Charles Cotton, pack Cub master.

Cotton requests residents to donate old tools or implements that might help the boys.

Persons may give tools to Glenn Crumal, 443 Second avenue north, or have them picked up by phoning 257 or 2204-R.

Tax Returns 'Easy,' Avow 2 Youngsters

CHICAGO, March 16 (U.P.)—Mike made out both returns in 10 minutes. He got the job because he's the older of the Mullin brothers. He's 10.

Mark is only seven, but he made more money.

Neither can see why their pop and other grownups have so much trouble with the income tax form.

"It's really very simple," Mike said. "You just follow the instructions."

Helped His Father

But Mike had to give his father a hand with his income forms.

"Dad's a smart fellow," Mike said, "because he's a college professor. But he get a little confused when he starts on his income tax. He hardly knows the difference between long-term capital gain and a depreciative investment."

Mike and Mark are what the psychologists call precocious. That means they are smart for their age. That's what got them into the income tax brackets this year. They made money appearing on a radio program featuring smart children.

Mike made $825. But Mark, the younger, made $900.

Their father, Francis J. Mullin, is proud of them. But it's disconcerting.

Ego Deflated

"It deflates my ego," he said. "I wasn't that smart when I was a child."

There's another bad side to having a couple of taxpayers in the family, Mullin said.

"This cuts two dependents off my tax return," he explained.

"And since we're putting all the boys' money in the bank for their college educations, I'm lending them my money to pay their taxes."

It didn't bother Mullin to have to ask his son for help on his tax form.

"I think I could have figured it out anyway," he said.

Cancer Unit Sets Drive for Funds

The annual campaign of the American Cancer society to raise funds to combat cancer through education, research and service will be launched throughout the state on April 1, according to Mrs. A. L. Norton, Twin Falls county publicity chairman.

"During 1947 a total of 508 Idaho residents died from cancer," Mrs. Norton said, which makes cancer the second highest cause of death in the state.

"It is not the purpose of the American Cancer society to spread hysteria, panic or fear about cancer," she declared, "but rather to urge residents to be calmly alert to the disease and to see their family doctors if they find a symptom of cancer."

Pigeons Are Dumbest Things; Common Old Variety, That Is

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON, March 16 (U.P.)—Pigeons are the dumbest things. The common, head-bobbing, waddling, corn-crib variety, that is.

Harman Nichols

Mr. H. C. Burke, an old pigeon man himself, brought up the matter at a hearing before the merchant marine and fisheries committee. He said if a body took a dozen ordinary pigeons from the nearest loft and moved 'em across town, they'd never find their way back.

"They wouldn't have enough sense," he said.

But take the Antwerps! There's a smart bird for you-all. Antwerps, as if you didn't know, are homing or carrier or racing pigeons. The committee was considering a bill that would make it a federal offense to shoot one.

Rep. Bob Nodar of New York said that was fine. He's a bird lover, too.

But how in the name of the bird house, he wanted to know, is a man going to know a carrier pigeon from the other kind?

Pigeon Man Burke gave the congressman up there on the rostrum the old hurt look. Carrier pigeons, he said, flapping his wings, have intelligence. Not to mention personality. They also wear more graceful lines than their common cousins and their feathers are more brilliant. And they are leg-marked with metal bands. The homecomers, he added, fly in flocks, another distinction.

Rep. John Allen of California said it was news to him that people went around killing innocent pigeons.

Well, Mr. Burke said, you may rest assured that people sure do. Every day. Not long ago, he said, he had a pigeon and advertised the fact. Some jerk mailed him the leg band, just to rub it in.

"The only way you can get the band off a homing pigeon," he said, "is to either chop off the leg or kill the bird.

Committee Chairman Raymond Burke (no kin) of Ohio said a bill like this one came up before congress and was passed in 1940. The late Franklin D. Roosevelt vetoed it, contending that it was carrying national defense too far.

June Is Set For Tests on Blast Results

SALT LAKE CITY, March 16 (U.P.)—The army announced today that tests to determine how sample structures withstand terrific bomb blasts when buried in different types of rock and soil will begin early in June in Utah and Colorado.

Col. Joseph S. Carlinski, head of the Sacramento district office of the army engineers, said the tests would continue until "late fall."

They will be conducted in granite, sandstone, clay, limestone and shale formations at Dugway, Utah, in the desert west of Salt Lake City; near Castledale, in central Utah, and near Grand Junction, Colo.

Experts Tour Sites

Carlinski, who assumed control of the district last fall after returning from post-war duty in China, announced the starting date during a conference of 25 experts who this week-end toured the test sites.

The tests will be made by setting off TNT charges ranging up to 320,000 pounds near tunnels, shafts and underground "works", containing various full scale and model "structures."

The engineer emphasized that no underground factories will be constructed in the area. However, data —much of which will remain secret —that is collected from the tests obviously might be used in planning such factories or storehouses later if needed.

To Employ 400

Carlinski said that about 400 men will be employed as construction workers and observers for the tests, which will cost between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. Test borings began last September. Construction of the underground experimentation facilities is now under way.

The engineers said that atomic energy will not be used in the tests, nor will any animals be placed in the structures as were during the atomic bomb tests at Bikini in 1946.

The population of Stockholm has grown from 590,000 to 700,000 since 1940.

IT ISN'T NICE TO HANDLE GARBAGE

No—it isn't pleasant gathering up food waste in an ordinary sink!

Of course, you have your spatula, colander and other tools to help you—but after all, there's only one effective way to pick it up—and that's with your hands!

After a meal, it's unpleasant to scrape dishes and empty the food waste into a paper bag—or into an under-the-sink container.

Wrapping garbage and carrying it to the outside container is a repulsive task. So is the job of cleaning the containers after the collector has emptied them.

No! It ISN'T nice to handle garbage.

BUT YOU DON'T HAVE TO HANDLE IT ANY MORE

The General Electric Disposall,* installed in your kitchen sink, removes food waste before it becomes garbage.

As you prepare a meal, simply drop peelings, pits, bones, and similar food waste into the drain opening of the sink. When you're ready, put the Safety Twistop Control in the opening and give it a single twist to the left.

Turn on the cold water. Like magic—the Disposall shreds all the waste to tiny particles that flush freely down the drain! That's all you have to do—it's a matter only of seconds.

DISPOSALL REMOVES FOOD WASTE BEFORE IT BECOMES GARBAGE

After meals, scrape the food from the dishes into the Disposall opening. Throw in bones, gristle, waste paper, pits, corn husks—almost anything. Twist the Safety Control, turn on the cold water, and swish—food waste is gone!

It's safe—hands can't get into the machinery. The Disposall will operate only when cold water is running in sufficient volume and when the Safety Twistop Control is locked in place.

And the Disposall is self-cleaning—it and your sink remain glistening clean and odorless. When not in use, the Disposall permits your sink to be used as an ordinary sink. The Safety Twistop Control acts also as a sink strainer and stopper.

The Disposall fits any sink with a 3½ to 4-inch drain opening. Usable with sewer or septic tank. Easy to transfer to your new home if you move.

U. S. Surplus Cash Exceeds Past Records

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—The government's budget surplus climbed to $5,076,475,494.60 yesterday.

It was the first time in history that government income has exceeded its spending by $5,000,000,000, even for a temporary period.

But the surplus is yet only two-thirds as large as President Truman predicts it will be when this fiscal year ends June 30.

Record Tax Collections

Chief reason for the big surplus is the record flow of tax collections.

Taxes reached a climax at midnight last night, the deadline for 55,000,000 taxpayers to file final 1947 income tax returns. It also was the deadline for several million of these taxpayers to pay the first installment on 1948 income tax.

Expenses Decrease

Also responsible for the heavy surplus is a decrease in government spending from last fiscal year, which ended with an excess of $754,000,000.

For the current fiscal year, budget receipts were $29,235,000,000 compared with $28,238,000,000 at this point in the last fiscal year.

Spending so far this fiscal year tops $24,158,500,000 against $27,030,000,000 last fiscal year.

Ex-WAC Officer Winner of Farm

REDDING, Calif., March 16 (U.P.)—Frances Jeanne Ivory, 28-year-old former WAC lieutenant, was out of town today, and relatives didn't know whether she had been notified that she had won a farm in a lottery.

Hundreds of veterans entered the lottery, conducted by the government for homestead lands in the Tule lake area. Miss Ivory was the only woman among 44 winners. Her mother, Mrs. O. R. Ivory, said her daughter left last week to visit friends in St. Louis.

A native of Salt Lake City, Miss Ivory was in Paris as a Mormon missionary when the World war broke out in 1939. By V-E day she was a first lieutenant in the WAC.

Motorcycle Dealer Sued for Lost Pay

Claiming that he lost $200 in wages through non-delivery of a motorcycle, Merle Struss filed suit in probate court Monday against Frank Tidwell, Twin Falls, for the alleged lost wages and an additional $225, purportedly a down payment on the vehicle.

Struss said in his petition that he had entered into a verbal agreement with Tidwell in October, 1947, to purchase the $900 motorcycle on Feb. 1, 1948. During the intervening time he claims he paid Tidwell $225.

Since Feb. 1, Struss, a hay chopper, added that he lost $200 in wages because he was not able to follow the hay chopping machine around on the motorcycle. He is represented by Attorney J. H. Barnes in the action.

Psychology in Education Told By Speaker; PTA Has Election

By JANICE FUGLIANO

It appears that Johnny, Jack and Sally are going to "get a break" if modern teaching psychology continues to progress in the American educational system.

In the words of Dr. David Ross, professor of psychology at SICE, Albion, "trends in education are pointing toward a stronger guidance program for non-academic students" and "academic courses are not advisable for those with vocational aptitudes."

Dr. Ross spoke at a meeting of the junior-senior Parent-Teacher association Monday night at the high school auditorium.

In speaking of teaching methods, he said teachers used to strive for ways to "make the student do it," but today the teacher attempts to "make the student want to do it."

He pointed out that scholastic, education and social training are three important divisions of a well rounded program and are of equal importance in the finished education.

For those who do go to college, as well as those who seek vocational fields, he stressed social education as being of equal importance with academic study.

In demonstrating that it is advisable to master subject matter at the same time that students gain their social education, Dr. Ross told of a study made recently in California. Several hundred college students were selected, mostly from Stanford, and records were kept of their achievements in later life.

He said "some of them followed the rule 'don't let your studies interfere with your education' and some believed in mastering subject matter while they got their social education." According to Dr. Ross 70 per cent of those who had both a social education and scholarship rated a listing in "Who's Who" when the study ended.

In development of responsibility he said methods used to "repress activity instead of guiding that activity into definite lines of endeavor," and "if we develop the right social attitude—teach the student how to get along with people—he'll do the rest himself."

Pointing out the error in the belief that any student should go on to college he said that those with vocational aptitude should make a study of their chosen field for satisfactory adjustment rather than seeking academic learning just to go to college.

Following his talk, a panel discussion was conducted by Mrs. Lionel Dean. Participatin, were Mrs. Rose North, dean of girls; Mrs. Neal Hazard, Supt. A. W. Morgan, Bernard Martyn and Dr. Ross.

During the business meeting, officers were elected for the coming year. Mrs. Victor Goertzen was elected president; Mrs. O. M. Bates, first vice president; Mrs. Frank Abbott, second vice president; Mrs. Earl Jensen, secretary; and Mrs. F. W. Easterbrooks, treasurer.

Serving on the nominating committee were Mrs. M. E. Shotwell, Mrs. George Halley, Mrs. Carl Boyd and Mrs. Harold Lackey.

Program numbers were presented by Grace Johnson who played "Intermezzo" and the well known "Souvenir" by Drdla as violin solos, with Mrs. Art Babbel at the piano. Muriel Pugliano, sang "Through the Years" and "In My Garden," accompanied by Caledonia Bailey. Bill Wa[illegible] spoke on "Our Constitution in a Changing World."

41 Will Hang For Killing of 3 U. S. Fliers

YOKOHAMA, Japan, March 16 (U.P.)—Forty-one former Japanese navy men were sentenced today to hang for participating in the wartime execution of three American naval fliers.

Two of the 45 defendants in the trial were acquitted, one was sentenced to 20 years at hard labor and one was given five years in prison.

The defendants were charged with slaying three fliers who parachuted from a Grumman Avenger torpedo plane to Ishigaka island in the Okinawa group on April 15, 1945. Their plane was launched from the aircraft carrier Makin in Straits.

The Americans were Lieut. Vernan L. Trebo, Pensacola, Fla.; Aviation Radioman 1/c Warren H. Loyd, Forest Hills, Long Island City, N. Y., and Aviation Ordinanceman Robert Trigsle, Brownwood, N. J.

Chief defendant was former Capt. Otohiko Inoue, the island commander, who ordered more than 130 men of the garrison to witness the executions. Trebo and Tuggle were decapitated and Loyd was tied to a stake and bayonetted.

Kaiser-Frazer Introduces Four New 1948 Models

• The 1948 KAISER
• The 1948 FRAZER
• The 1948 KAISER CUSTOM
• The 1948 FRAZER MANHATTAN

AT NO INCREASE IN PRICE!

While Other New Car Prices Are Advancing

HERE'S WHY Kaiser-Frazer can make this announcement while other new car prices spiral upward. Kaiser-Frazer controls its own supply of many basic raw materials . . . has its own engine plant, foundry and steel mill. Materials from these sources funnel into new and modern Willow Run—the largest automobile manufacturing plant in the world under one roof.

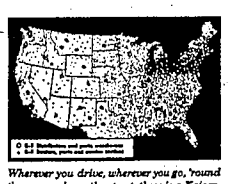

Unfinished steel goes in one end of this great plant and comes out a quality automobile, ready to be driven away. All this is accomplished in a matter of hours, and with the economy of Kaiser-Frazer straight-line production. This is an achievement of men who are injecting new methods and ideas into an old industry.

In the new 1948 Kaiser, Frazer, Kaiser Custom, and Frazer Manhattan you get all the features that others have attempted to copy since Kaiser-Frazer design was introduced in 1947.

So far no one has been able to more than approximate the graceful exterior body lines. No one has come near matching the roadability . . . the ride resulting from seats cradled between the front and rear wheels, such wide seats with both elbow and shoulder room. And none have the style features, the wide choice of colors and fabrics.

You get all this plus the many refinements made possible by years-ahead engineering and design. And, of course, all 1948 Kaiser or Frazer cars have the new Goodyear 24-pound pressure Super-Cushion tires that make bumps something you see but never feel.

Enjoy a ride today in America's newest new cars—the 1948 cars that have not gone up in price!

Wherever you drive, wherever you go, 'round the corner, down the street, there is a Kaiser-Frazer dealer ready to serve you with genuine factory parts and approved service.

We Invite You to SEE, DRIVE and COMPARE Them, Today!

Dam Backers Ask Speed to Ease Burden

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Backers of quick construction of Foster creek and McNary dams across the Columbia river in Washington and Oregon told a senate committee they are needed to prevent a power shortage.

They said the $170,000,000 Foster creek and $227,000,000 McNary dams are needed for national defense.

Power furnished the atomic bomb works at Hanford, Wash., they said, shortened the last war and will be needed in additional quantities if another war comes.

Cite Increased Need

The Foster creek project, designed to generate 1,020,000 kilowatts of power, was said by witnesses to be the cheapest power project the government can construct. They added that in 1956 the northwest area will need an additional total of 1,267,000 kilowatts of power.

Senator Cain, R., Wash., yesterday told the senate appropriations subcommittee on army civil functions that the nation needs the Foster creek dam now.

"Work on Foster creek cannot be postponed if power demands are to be met," Cain said. "From a defense standpoint, the nation needs it. Foster creek dam, once completed, can deliver a large block of power to the Bonneville power administration transmission lines without costly line construction."

Planning Cash Sought

He asked that $583,000 for advance planning, which was eliminated by the house from budget requests, be restored and that $3,500,000 be provided for pre-construction so that pouring of concrete can start in 1949.

He also asked $40,000,000 for McNary dam, lower down the river.

Previously Senator Morse, R., Ore., urged $30,000,000 or more for construction of McNary dam and Herbert G. West, executive vice-president of the Inland Empire Waterways association, filed a statement urging a minimum of $40,000,000 for McNary.

Nevada Tops for Car-Person Ratio

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Sparsely-settled Nevada leads the nation in ratio of civilian population to passenger cars, industry's 1947 figures show.

Nevada had a ratio of 3.1 persons per passenger automobile, in 1947, preliminary data compiled by the Automobile Manufacturers' association shows. California was second with 3.2.

South Dakota tied with Idaho for third with 3.5 persons per car; Iowa tied with Washington for 13th with 3.9 persons per car.

In 1946, Nebraska topped the country with 3.5 and California again was second with 3.5.

Top gainers in the nation during the past six years were: Florida, 19.9 per cent; Utah, 19.4, and Nevada, 16.9 per cent.

British in Palestine Seek to Withdraw With Minimum Loss

(Editor's note: Here is another dispatch on conditions in Palestine by a well-known United Press correspondent who has just returned to the United States after spending almost a year in the middle east.)

By ROBERT C. MILLER

The main objective of the British forces remaining in Palestine is to evacuate troops and material with as small a loss of life as possible.

The British mandate in the holy land will be given up May 15, according to London announcements, and all troops are expected to be evacuated to Cyprus, Africa and other parts of the empire by Aug. 15.

The first of the 50,000 military personnel have already been shipped out, and the operation will move faster now that the ports have been cleared of citrus shipments.

Few of Britain's experts on the middle east ever expected the chaos which now prevails in Palestine. They anticipated that the partition vote would cause some rioting, but predicted that the Arabs "were just bluffing," would never fight and that their leaders were secretly reconciled to some form of partition.

The British colonial administration has found that relying by stone-throwing mobs in the middle east has served as a safety valve for the highly emotional Arabs. Consequently they believed it wiser to allow the mobs to exhaust themselves with curses, brickbats and stones than to be suppressed and eventually develop into a full-grown revolution.

Thus, when the Arab mobs in Jerusalem stormed out of the old city to burn, loot and destroy Jewish property, the British authorities did not intervene. They predicted all would be normal within a few days.

This mistake in administration policy has been fatal. The Arabs, realizing that the British had no intention of arresting them, rolled up their sleeves and went to it with a vengeance. When the Palestine authorities finally attempted to clamp down on the trouble makers, it was too late. The disorders had spread throughout the holy land.

There was a natural partiality shown by the British for the Arabs when the civil war began. Scores of British police and soldiers had been murdered by Jewish terrorists. Everywhere the British were regarded by the Jewish populace as invaders and unwelcome rulers.

There were also anti-Semitic groups in the British occupation forces who increased the tension between the two groups.

When the Jews began to suffer heavily at the hands of the Arab mobs, there was a decided change of heart, and the traditional love of the underdog converted many a Britisher to the Jewish side. The affection was neither returned nor long remembered. The Jewish extremists continued to kill Britishers and none of the responsible heads of the Palestine Jews seemed able stop them.

The result has been a three-sided war. A large part of the British administration is attempting to do the best job possible and doing everything to maintain law and order until the last official leaves. The position of the majority, however, is, "we couldn't care less."

Signs Point to U. S. Decision To Back Policies With Might

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There are many indications that the U. S. government has decided to back its foreign policy with its military might, and that the method, not the principle, is all that remains to be determined.

A flood of public statements in the last few days demanding that stronger action against Russia be added to the war of dollars and words has created a jittery atmosphere. There is widespread talk of the possibility of war within the next few months.

Former Secretary of State Byrnes is advocating a warning to Russia that further aggression will be met directly by American force while the United Nations is being called on to act.

President Truman is awaiting word from the military on what we are prepared to do, and what we can prepare to do in the next few months.

France wants arms from us.

Secretary Marshall describes the overall situation as very serious and asks more aid for Greece and Turkey. Britain takes occasion to remind that she has a mutual assistance pact with Turkey.

Italy is threatened with excommunication from the Marshall plan unless her people eschew communism.

Vladimir Matchek, Croatian Peasant party leader and former Yugoslav vice premier, says the Soviet must be contented with "this only argument they understand, force."

Britain's secretary of state for air warns his units of an "extremely grim" international situation "which we have to take into consideration in going about our work."

Herbert Morrison says Britain "is back in the same sort of nightmare of aggression we thought we had banished by disposing of Hitler" and calls for new resistance. So does Samuel Rosenman, special advisor of both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, who says Russian dictatorship has started rolling westward in true Hitler fashion.

You will notice that all this talk is directed not toward war, but toward letting Russia know the dangers of her course. You will also notice the lack of references to Finland, although full advantage is being taken by the allies of the Czech example of how you can't do business with communism.

The Truman doctrine never envisaged an active campaign to save countries like Finland and Czechoslovakia, which were already in the Russian orbit a year ago. The object has been to hold the line where it was when we were finally disillusioned about the possibilities of Russian cooperation.

Since then, in Greece, Turkey, Iran and elsewhere, Russia has avoided taking chances which might bring on war. But she is being goaded now by evidence that what she does not get soon she will never get. The European nations are organizing both for defense and economic stability in a fashion which was not believed possible only a few months ago. What the west fears now is that the kremlin will underestimate the anti-communist determination and, as it sees time closing in, will make some desperate and fatal move.

Sonic-Speeds Due Soon for Jet Airplanes

LOS ANGELES, March 16 (AP)—It shouldn't be long, now, until military pilots are flying at the fabulous speed of sound.

It's largely a matter of manufacturing design, says Comdr. W. A. Sherill, torpedo plane pilot and navy wartime air group commander who is himself something of an aerial speedster.

Sherill has whipped the navy's sleek new jet fighter through tests "in the neighborhood of 600 miles an hour," and thinks he probably could have gone faster.

Not by Existing Planes

But the sonic barrier—the speed of sound — probably will not be topped by any plane now flying, Sherill thinks, although it undoubtedly will be a jet.

"Breaking the speed of sound is a possibility of any jet engine. The only limiting factor is the plane itself. It's up to the manufacturing engineers now."

The speed of sound varies according to altitude, and it is at the highest altitudes that jet-propelled planes function best. At 35,000 feet and 40 degrees below zero, sound travels at around 620 miles an hour.

87 Per Cent Achieved

The jet-propelled "Fury," newest of the navy's operational fighters, has achieved a speed 87 per cent of the speed of sound. It goes so fast and is so "clean" in aerodynamic design, that the navy is considering putting on brakes or flaps to slow it up under certain conditions.

Its speed makes navigation difficult, too, Commander Sherill admitted wryly.

"You're there before you know it," he said.

"Flying from Los Angeles to Oklahoma City I had to start letting down in Amarillo, Tex.

Expensive

BOISE, March 16 (AP)—Idahoans spent more for liquor and tobacco in 1947 than it costs to run the state for two years, according to figures released by Allen Jefferies, state narcotics education director.

Man Is Charged On Manslaughter

IDAHO FALLS, March 16 (AP) — Complaints charging Everett C. Stoneberg, 34, New Sweden, with involuntary manslaughter and being the driver of a hit and run car were filed late yesterday by Bonneville County Prosecutor John Fernbauer.

Camp Fire Reviews Its Year's Service Projects

Birthday week for Camp Fire Girls, now being observed in Twin Falls with various activities and projects, is the time when the members of the organization review their accomplishments for the preceding year.

Following the third part of the Camp Fire law, "give service," Twin Falls Camp Fire Girls have behind them a year's record of many worthwhile and constructive service projects.

One of their most recent services is for their national organization, which has purchased its own headquarters building in New York and offered girls throughout the nation an opportunity to share in the new project.

Several groups in the local council have given service to this project. Iyopta Camp Fire group under Mrs. Harold Lackey, guardian, have given through a rag-collecting project. Wacanda group with Mrs. R. T. Campbell as guardian; the O-Flu-Ta group, Mrs. Raymond Poulton, guardian; the Canteenita group, Mrs. Wallace Bond, guardian; the Maywakanah group, Mrs. H. L. Ainsworth, guardian, and two Blue Bird groups, the Fairy under Mrs. H. L. Dreisenberger and the Pansy under Mrs. Lyle Beebe have also contributed to the project.

Three Camp Fire groups have given service through the Needlework guild, in which each girl in the group contributed two new articles of clothing for needy persons. The Awakiya Camp Fire group, Mrs. Kenneth Kall, guardian; the Canchaya Camp Fire group, Barbara Johnson, guardian, and the Wa-Can-Ki-Ya group, Hollister, Mrs. Ed Roberts, guardian, took part in this service.

Several groups have sent parcels of food and clothing or party kits to foreign lands, particularly those groups who have "friendship groups" and "pen pals" in foreign lands. The Kawasi group, Mrs. Stanley Christensen, guardian; the Owasaka group, Mrs. Harold Deagle, guardian, and the Wahanka group, Mrs. Oliver Anderson, guardian, have all given to friendship groups.

The Otyokwa group, Mrs. F. M. Tucker, guardian, has given service through a local church. Several groups have helped the local health unit by rolling cotton balls, making swabs, etc. The Welomachick group, Mrs. Archie Langdon, guardian, has canned apple sauce for the county farm. The Otakuye group, Filer, Mrs. Robert Poe, guardian, made stuffed toys to send to the children's home in Boise.

Many of the groups have made tray favors and scrapbooks for hospitals; some groups have sent plants or given to local shut-ins. Many contributed to the "friendship train" during the collection period here and others adopted needy families to which they gave baskets for Christmas.

Lack of Ski Jump Here Keeps Local Youths Out of National Junior Tourney

Lack of a ski jump near Twin Falls cost the Twin Falls Junior American Legion ski team a place on the state team which will compete with other states at the national junior Legion ski tournament at Sun Valley April 3 and 4, Jack Smith, Twin Falls Legionnaire who has been working with the local team, said Monday.

"If there had been a jump at Magic Mountain, where the boys could have learned that most essential part of contest skiing they would have been able to compete in all events and to have won at least one place on the state team," he said.

Dick Bailey and Henry Gandiaga, Twin Falls team members, both placed high on downhill and slalom runs but lost out in the combined total scores when they were unable to compete in the jumps. Bailey placed seventh in the field of 25 on the slalom and eighth in the downhill run. Gandiaga placed seventh in the downhill and ninth in the slalom.

As it was three boys from McCall and two from Boise were chosen to represent Idaho in the junior ski championships for which five man teams from Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Colorado, Montana and Canada will compete.

Smith stated that the ski run at McCall, where the eliminations were held could not compare with the facilities and hills at Magic Mountain and "yet they took three places on the team because there is a jump at McCall."

He said the McCall run was only 1,000 feet long and that the ski lift only went up 700 feet.

"Another reason for the majority of the team coming from McCall is the interest shown in skiing. In the competition for boys under 12 years old there were kids no more than six years old making a good showing simply because they had been on skis since they learned how to walk," he said.

Smith said the ski master at McCall picked up students at both the McCall and Donnelly schools and took them to the ski run several nights a week in order that they could practice.

Five top winners at the elimination meet who will compete in the national ski meet are Murray "Moddy" Numbers, Mac Miller, both McCall; Peter Johnson, Boise; Ted Nelson, McCall, and Colin Taylor, Boise.

On the SPORT FRONT With YOSS

(The Pudgy One)

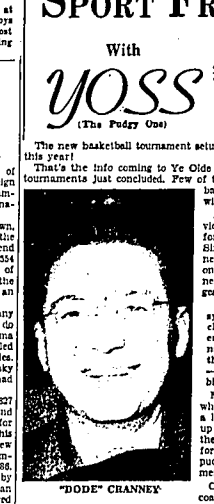

The new basketball tournament setup in Idaho will last just one year—this year!

That's the info coming to Ye Olde Sport Scrivener from the regional tournaments just concluded. Few of the coaches like it and want to go back to the district-state system with the in-between regionals out.

A system, in which the state is divided up into seven districts with one four-team league, has been suggested. Six districts would send their winners to the state tournament, while one district would place both its winner and runner-up under the suggested plan.

But Idaho will never adopt the system in use in Utah where the champions of the various conferences are sent into the state tournament. It's because the coaches themselves don't like that system—for Idaho, where conditions are a bit different.

M. C. "Dode" Cranney, a gent for whom the ancient word peddler has a lot of respect even though he gave up a successful coaching career for the more profitable one of fieldman for a seed company, handed the pudgy one a mind full of enlightenment on the subject the other day.

"DODE" CRANNEY

Cranney, you might know, has coached both in Idaho and Utah.

"In Utah a coach hasn't a chance if he starts out with a green team," said Cranney. "You have to win every game there to get in the state tournament—in fact, the pressure is on your team all the time."

That's the reason, the ex-mentor declares, that a basketball team plays only one contest a week there during the season. The pace is just too strenuous for more.

"Now in Idaho you have a chance," he continued. "You can take it a bit easier, building as you go along and then by tournament time you may have a team that is capable of winning the state crown."

YOSS's column will always be open for the praise of a kid and for this reason he's publishing this note for "A Rupert Fan":

"One outstanding player in the district tournament was Junior Gibson, but in your column you didn't mention that. In fact, to the Rupert people and a lot of Burley people he is an outstanding guard in this area. Gibson made 288 points for Rupert this year, leading the scorers of the team. He is now being eyed by several colleges, among them being Purdue and Kentucky."

AND THAT'S THAT FOR NOW, except: 35 candidates for the Bruin cinder team have answered Coach Hank Powers' first call.

Mrs. Gilkey Now State's Pin Champion

Mrs. Mary Gilkey, formerly of Twin Falls but now Boise, will reign as the women's state bowling champion until the annual state tournament is renewed here in 1949.

She won the all-events crown, emblematic of that title, in the tournament at Boise last week-end when she amassed a total of 1,554 for nine games or an average of 174 a game. She also took the scratch singles title with 573 or an average of 191.

Sixth place was the best that any of the Twin Falls women could do in the tournament events. Emma McVey and Marjorie Cobb rolled 1,198 for sixth place in the doubles. In the same event, Mary Gersky and Margaret Weaver, Buhl, had 1,156 for eighth.

The Ogem State Oils rolled 2,827 for sixth in the team event and Edythe Bauer came up with 619 for 12th position in the singles in this event. Barbara McKinnon, new president of the Twin Falls Women's Bowling association, had 586.

A 233 game and a 577 total by W. L. Johnson of the Presbyterian team in the Church league featured play at the Bowladrome Monday night.

'Vulcanized' Cards' Chances Depend on Pollet's Pitching

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16 (AP)—They're calling the St. Louis Cardinals a "vulcanized ball club" this spring and even Boss Eddie Dyer concedes that a lot of his high hopes for the National league race depends upon the pitching of Howie Pollet's left arm. Dyer admits he's high on his team's prospects and that's quite an admission for a manager who saw his 1946 world champions slump to a none-too-impressive second place last year.

And if the Cards come back this year as well as Dyer hopes they do, Eddie is willing to give a lot of the credit to the surgeons.

In the past year no fewer than five Cardinals have undergone various operations — two each for George Munger and Stan Musial. There are indications of improvement in every case, but the big doubt still concerns Pollet.

"The Red Sox hit him four times after two were out in his third inning the other day," Dyer explained today. "But up to that point he had done all right. After the game some of the Sox sent word to me not to worry about Pollet because he was just as fast as he had been in the first game of the series.

As for offense, Dyer claims the return of Enos Slaughter and Musial to good health will help a lot.

"The big difference between this team and the 1947 team is the return to shape of Musial and Pollet," he says.

The new Cowboy manager told of his experiences and declared the Pioneer league had this reputation of being the best class C organization in baseball. He said for that reason he was very happy to come into the league as manager.

Huskies Beat Bears to Win Coast Crown

LOS ANGELES, March 16 (AP)—Ineligibility of Jack Nichols, University of Washington basketball center, for the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championship tournament was confirmed today by Prof. Hugh Willett, NCAA eligibility committee chairman.

BERKELEY, Calif., March 16 (AP) —The University of Washington won the Pacific coast conference championship last night by coming from behind in the second half to defeat the University of California, 59 to 49.

The Huskies, trailing by six points as the half opened, broke through a disorganized California defense to score 18 points in the first 10 minutes of play and take a six-point lead at 42-36.

Bill Taylor dropped in a field goal, followed by two free throws by Andy Opacich and a field goal by Sammy White to tie the score two minutes after the second half opened. Bill Vandenburgh put the Huskies out in front at 32-30 and George Walker tied at 32-all. A second later Taylor dropped in a free throw to give Washington a lead they never relinquished.

Opacich, a substitute guard, scored 16 points to lead the Huskies' scorers. George Walker dropped in 14 to lead California.

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Bearish views of foreign and domestic news brought the fastest and sharpest stock market sell-off in a month.

Prices eased at the start. Dealings then tapered but fairly heavy offerings hit the ticker tape near the second hour. Steels, motors, rails, oils, aircrafts, amusements and a wide assortment of industrials fell 1 to 3 or more points. The pace then slowed and recoveries appeared here and there.

The skid was resumed in the final period and many pivotals closed at or near the day's bottoms. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 900,000 shares.

Touching lows for the year were General Motors, U. S. Steel, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Baltimore & Ohio and Illinois Central.

Railway bonds were in supply.

Farm Worker Groups Select New Officials

Farm Labor Sponsoring association meetings were held Monday night in Filer, Murtaugh, Hansen and Twin Falls, but sufficient members were present to conduct business meetings at only Filer and Murtaugh.

In Twin Falls and Hansen a quorum was not obtained and the meetings were cancelled.

Trio Elected

At Murtaugh Harold Menser, Ray Assendrup and August Heatbeck were elected committeemen. The labor sponsoring committee will elect a chairman at a later date to send to a county meeting at the Twin Falls labor camp.

Filer committeemen are Robert Brackett, C. J. DeVisser and Milton Lierman. Lierman is chairman of the group. The Filer group went on record favoring the continuance of the Filer and Clover districts operating as one unit.

Buses Slated

It also was decided at the Filer meeting that buses will be run from the Twin Falls labor camp every morning and evening when the labor is needed.

Representatives of the Amalgamated Sugar company discussed the 1947 beet harvest and transportation problems.

C. W. Coiner, chairman of the Hansen-Kimberly district, declared he was "very disgusted" with the turnout and said the association might discontinue meetings in his area.

Heir Expected by Britain's Princess

LONDON, March 16 (UP)—Princess Elizabeth is expecting a baby in October, a source close to Buckingham palace said today.

The palace would not comment officially on the report, but it was known:

1. The princess gradually has withdrawn from public appearances and her social calendar contains only five official engagements between now and the end of the year.

2. Elizabeth and Philip have not been included in plans for the royal family's tour of Australia and New Zealand early next year.

3. Their own trip, never officially announced, was cancelled. It had been expected they would tour Canada and, perhaps, the United States.

Hospital Plans, Contracts Aired

Further discussion of plans and contracts for the new county hospital were the subject of a meeting of the Twin Falls county hospital board and county commissioners Monday.

The plans presented to the commissioners by the hospital board are still considered tentative and subject to minor revisions, according to T. C. Bacon, chairman of the board.

Earlier in the day Harry Gault, director of the county noxious weed department, was authorized by the commissioners to attend a conference in Boise with E. W. Sinclair, state director of public works. The date of the conference has not been determined.

No Change Given In Condition of 3

The condition of three persons injured in an automobile accident 21 miles north of Wells, Nev., Sunday was reported as "unchanged" by Twin Falls county hospital attendants Tuesday.

Edward Dexter, San Francisco, Calif., the most critically injured, sustained skull fracture, broken jaw and arm and head lacerations. His wife, and Mrs. J. D. Barlogi, Hagerman, a passenger in the other vehicle involved in the crash, are believed less seriously hurt. The nature of their injuries was not disclosed.

Vagrant Fined

Rose Williams, 35, Twin Falls, who pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge Tuesday, was fined $5.40 court costs and given a 30-day sentence in the county jail by Judge James O. Pumphrey.

The sentence was suspended on the condition Miss Williams leave Twin Falls county within 24 hours, Judge Pumphrey said.

LOCAL MAN FINED

Norman Doty, Twin Falls, was fined $20 Tuesday after pleading guilty to a charge of intoxication. He appeared before Judge James O. Pumphrey. He was arrested the previous night by Twin Falls city police.

Rough

Youngsters at the Deep Creek school were in for a big disappointment Tuesday when it was announced the school term would end a week later than previously scheduled.

Because of a miscalculation in the number of days used up on vacations during the year, school officials said they had set the school closing date for May 5. The corrected date is May 11.

Auction Sale Planned for Church Fund

GOODING, March 16—More than 100 new items plus numerous used articles including farm machinery, feeds, seeds and livestock have been contributed to the public auction to be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Gooding county fairgrounds.

All money derived from the auction will go toward the Gooding LDS church building fund.

Col. Harvey Iverson, assisted by Lawrence Willard and W. R. Eastabrooks, will be auctioneer. All local merchants have contributed to the sale.

Among the new items contributed by merchants are washing machines, home freezers, auto tires, auto batteries, electrical appliances, auto accessories, several tons of coal, blankets, groceries, jewelry, fountain pens, oils, paints, 120 pounds of alfalfa seed and baby chicks.

Included with the livestock contributed are dairy type heifers, 10 white face yearlings, hogs, sheep, horses and poultry.

M. Staley Cheney, chairman of the auction, reported that chocolate and lunches will be served by the Relief society.

Trial Date Set in Suit for Damages

Trial date for the $222 damage suit of W. L. Fletcher against the Michael-Swanson-Brady Produce company has been set for 10 a. m. Thursday in Twin Falls justice court.

In the action, Fletcher claims the company left a truck parked on U. S. highway 30 one mile west of Hansen on Nov. 13, 1947, and he rammed into the truck during a heavy snowstorm.

Fletcher charges damages to the car he was driving and the one he was towing amounted to $222 for which he is suing in addition to court costs and attorney fees.

No jury has been called for the trial to be heard by Justice of the Peace James O. Pumphrey.

Annulment Asked For Nevada Rites

A suit asking the annulment of the marriage of Ernest Prescott, 20, and his bride of two weeks, Mrs. Virginia Smith Prescott, 17, was filed in district court Tuesday by Prescott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Prescott.

In their petition the parents claim Mr. and Mrs. Prescott are both minors and under state law both must have the consent of their parents before marrying.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Prescott say this consent was not given prior to the young couple's marriage March 5 in Elko, Nev. Attorney Earl E. Walker is representing the parents in the action.

380,000 Idled By Strikes of 2 Big Unions manned by American Federation of Labor workmen who are not on strike.

"Delay of strike action at this time would obviously serve no fruitful purpose in promoting a solution of this wage issue," the committee told President Truman.

The miners' walkout backed up demands of John L. Lewis for $100 monthly pensions. It affected 209,750 miners in 12 states.

U. S. mediation officials in Washington hastily explored means of stopping the walkout. The strongest possibility seemed that the government would try to mediate as long as there seemed hope of a solution.

All 23,000 members of the United Mine Workers had quit their jobs in Illinois and large quotas had stopped work in 11 other states.

Even should President Truman seek another injunction against UMW President Lewis, there was some question whether the court could find anything to restrain. Lewis' contract, signed by the industry last July 8, provided only that miners should work as long as they were "able and willing."

The Taft-Hartley act provides machinery for keeping vital industries going in a national emergency, but it would take some time to get its provision into action.

The walkouts came after Lewis sent letters to his local last Friday telling them operators "have dishonored the 1947 wage agreement and defaulted under its provisions affecting the welfare board."

"This office," Lewis continued "proposes to go forward in requiring the coal operators to honor their agreement. Your ears will soon be assailed by their outcries and wails of anguish. To relieve themselves, they need only to comply with the provisions of the agreement which they solemnly executed in this office on July 8, 1947."

Traffic Fines

Traffic fines totalling $34 were paid in Twin Falls police court Tuesday by nine motorists, police report.

Ralph L. Brown, paid a fine of $20 and $3 costs for speeding within the city limits. E. Douglas, Ted Smith and Don McGee each paid $2 for improper parking.

Overtime parking fines of $1 each were paid by Wayne Joslin, H. H. Neuenschwander, Charles Sieber, M. S. Inglebritsen and Jim Reuse.
